

Eleanor Davis Thompson

Eleanor Davis Thompson is a 76 year old native of Austin Texas and graduate of the original L.C. Anderson High School. She studied at Texas Southern University, Washburn University in Topeka Kansas and UT Austin. Currently employed as a Senior Planner for Travis County Justice of the Peace Precinct 1, where Judge Yvonne M. Williams presides, Eleanor is the Juvenile Division Manager. She supervises the Juvenile Case Manager, juvenile court clerks and interns and her responsibilities include researching, planning, implementing and monitoring programs and services for juveniles and families in the court system. Eleanor is a board member and legislative liaison for The Texas Association for Truancy and Dropout Prevention, a member of the E3 Alliance's Missing School Matters Task Force and was appointed to the Travis County Uniform Truancy Policy Task Force by Mayor Steve Adler in 2016. She was actively involved, along with Judge Williams in the successful effort to have truancy decriminalized in Texas. Eleanor is committed to improving the quality of life for impoverished children and elderly seniors, as she considers them two of our most vulnerable populations and she is passionate about keeping school age children out of the school to prison pipeline.
